Pontoon facing FEMA deadline

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The village of Pontoon Beach has been given a slight reprieve from federal floodplain violations, but must come up with a plan to deal with existing violations in the near future or face expulsion from the National Flood Insurance Program.

The board held a special meeting Wednesday with David Schein and Bettie Baker of the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

At the end of the meeting, which included a tour of floodplain violations with Village President John Hales, Schein said in about two weeks his office would send a letter to the village recapping what they talked about.

"There's going to be a quick turnaround time to demonstrate good faith on the part of Pontoon Beach," Schein said.

The meeting was called after the village received a letter from Janet M. Odeshoo, director of the FEMA's Region Five Mitigation Division.

In the letter, dated Sept. 13, Odeshoo said the village needs to take more action to correct problems with buildings violating federal floodplain standards.

The letter stated that village's plan to deal with some violations by granting variances was unacceptable.

The problems have been the subject of discussions and negotiations between the village and federal and state offices for several years.

In May 1995 FEMA notified the village that unless information on floodplain violations was sent, the village would be placed on probation for participation in the NFIP.

Flood plain violation cost estimate: $150,000

By Scott Cousins
Staff writer

The cost of dealing with flood plain violations in Pontoon Beach has been estimated at about $150,000.

However, even at that cost, only about half the problems can be totally corrected, and owners of structures not in compliance with federal regulations will probably be paying a high price in flood insurance premiums.

Village Engineer John Hales said the village has to deal with 15 violations — one business, seven mobile homes, six homes in the Timberlake area and one home on East Lake Drive.

The village was recently notified by the state that two other issues involving fences on East Lake Drive would not be considered violations.

In each of the other cases, the lowest elevations of the structure is below 417 feet below sea level — the 100-year flood level.

David Schein of the Federal Emergency Management Agency told village officials Wednesday they will have to make the decision on whether to correct or mitigate the violations.

To correct violations, the lowest elevation in the buildings either have to be raised above the 100-year floodplain or the floodplain would have to be lowered.

Mitigating the violations means taking steps to ensure that damage to the structure during a flood would be minimized.

(See COST, Page 6A)

Obtaining the information was the first part of a three-phase plan to deal with those violations.

The second phase was to find the lowest floor elevations in those buildings and then work to develop a plan to correct the problems and make sure adequate records and permit systems keep the problem from recurring.

For several buildings, Hales recommended granting variances with the understanding that any future construction must meet federal guidelines.

Odeshoo said such blanket variances were "unacceptable."

At Wednesday's meeting, Schein told village officials action had to be taken soon, but also told them they were willing to work with them.

"I think there is a happy medium we will eventually get to," Schein said. "It's my fervent hope that we're going to keep Pontoon Beach in the flood insurance program, but we need a very, very positive response very soon."

12,000 voters added

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

Madison County Clerk Debbie Saltich says at least 12,000 new voters will probably be added to the rolls by November.

And that — and other election preparations — are making for 12-hour weekdays and working on Saturday for Saltich and her staff.

Her office is still counting up the number of registered voters for the November election.

"As of three weeks ago, we had 5,700 new registered voters," Saltich said Wednesday. "And after voter registration ended Oct. 8, we were inundated with them again last week."

As of Tuesday, there were 143,500 registered voters in Madison County, but the number is changing daily, and registration figures come in from various deputy registrars.

During Wednesday's Madison County Board meeting, Saltich said that after all is said and done, she expects at least 12,000 newly registered voters to be added to her records.

And that means another two days of registrations at other locations that probably have 2,000 more, Saltich said.

According to the Voter's Registration department of Saltich's (See VOTERS, Page 2A)

Municipalities vie for unincorporated property

By Bob Slatte
Staff writer

What began as a few apparently harmless annexations by area municipalities has grown into a fierce competition between Madison, Granite City and Pontoon Beach race one another to gobble up as much property as possible.

Annexing property can increase the assessed value and tax receipts of a municipality — but often at the expense of other taxing districts.

A case in point is two parcels of business property located in unincorporated Nameoki Township on Illinois Route 162.

While Pontoon Beach had planned to annex the Lakeview Driving Range and Batting Cages, located at 3519 Illinois Route 162, and Lindsay Construction Co., located at 3519 Illinois Route 162, Granite City will apparently beat the village to the punch this week.

The property is slated to be annexed into Granite City at a special meeting of the Granite City Council at 5 p.m. Monday night — one night before the village had planned to annex the property.

Granite City Economic Development Director Dan Brown declined to comment on the specifics of the annexations, but said that the city was taking the property with the consent of the owners and that Pontoon Beach had planned to annex the property forcibly.

"All of the proper authorities have been notified," Brown said, in reference to Nameoki Township and the Long Lake Fire Protection District.

While the annexations will apparently have no effect on the property base of the Nameoki Township, the property annexed into the city remains listed on the township tax rolls — it will directly affect the Long Lake Fire Protection District.

Annexation into the city automatically removes the property (See WARS, Page 2A)

Phillip Powell fills out a daily planner.

Getting organized

Donation will help students with planning

Illinois Power has donated $1,300 to the Granite City High School Positive Learning with Us program. The donation financed the purchase of 200 planning calendars for the 1996-97 school year. 25 students at GCHS will use the six month calendar that will be used to help communicate to the students the importance of organized planning in building a community of learners.

With over 500 participating students at Granite City High School, Madison Middle School and Venice Grade School learning to plan and organize their work with the help of the planners, the donation means that planning, scheduling and being accountable—essential skills for school work—will play a big part in area classrooms this year.

The planners will help students keep track of daily assignments as well as helping officials track their child's progress, school officials said.

DeVore, Illinois Power's customer relations manager in Granite City, said: "Illinois Power is committed to the partnerships we have developed with educators in the communities we serve. The academic planner, which is an excellent learning tool, is just another example of that commitment."

The company is donating more than 5,000 planners to schools in 14 communities across the state.

PLUS is a dropout-prevention program for at-risk freshmen. It was created by teachers who saw a need and, because of their attitude of personal caring for the students in question, filled that need.

Six PLUS team teachers, who volunteer their time daily, teach an Affective Skills Development curriculum during half-hour lunch study sessions. Upperclassmen and family members also volunteer to work with PLUS students. Parental involvement includes monthly meetings.

Special assemblies held for PLUS students are aimed at both instruction and entertainment. The program received the 1995 Illinois Governor's Hometown Award in the Youth Category for volunteerism and has also been reviewed in the education newsletter of Illinois State University.

A Venice man wanted on three outstanding warrants was arrested Monday.

Johnnie C. Jackson, 19, of Venice Homes, Venice, was arrested at about 9:50 a.m. Monday after he received a report of three people inside a house in the 900 block of Jackson Street without permission.

When a Madison police officer, Jackson and two others were in the building, one of the men said his uncle had given him a key and said they could spend the night. However, the owner said he had evicted the previous tenant.

A record check revealed Jackson was wanted for failure to appear on three warrants.

One warrant was for unlawful possession of a controlled substance and sentencing for two counts of unlawful possession of controlled substances.

On Tuesday two others were also arrested on outstanding warrants in unrelated incidents.

John Lind Wright, 31, of Lee Wright Homes, Venice, was arrested for failure to appear to a theft charge.

He was arrested at about 1 a.m. after Madison police made a traffic stop on Washington Avenue.

Later that day Michael J. Glover, 18, of the 100 block of Lee Wright Homes, Madison, was arrested at about 6:30 p.m. when an officer saw Glover on another man walking on Alton Avenue. Glover had an outstanding warrant for possession of a controlled substance.

Student artwork to be displayed

Artwork that was a result of a senior assignment project in Mexico last year will be the center of attention in an exhibit, "Mexico 1995"—works created by students and faculty, as well as artifacts from the University Museum of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

It will be on display through Oct. 25 in the new Wagner Gallery in the SIUE department of art and design and will exhibit works by 15 students and faculty, historic and contemporary artifacts from the Museum's collection and slides taken during a trip to Mexico for a senior project.

The show, which continues through Oct. 25, will present works in ceramics, fibers, painting, and photography, as well as prints, sculpture and mixed media pieces. The inspiration for the exhibit originated in a Pre-Columbian art history class taught at SIUE by Michael Wright, an associate professor of art and design. Professor Paul Dresang, a ceramics artist in that department and the project's coordinator, had attended the class out of a personal interest in furthering his knowledge of Mexican culture.

For the information gained in the course, Dresang said, came the idea for a senior project trip to Mexico. He said Laura Strand, an assistant professor in textiles and fibers in the department, was an integral part in developing the project.

December trip planned to Branson

The Granite City Park District will sponsor the last three-day trip of the year on Dec. 6-8 to one of America's favorite tour destinations, Branson, Mo. The trip will not only include the showy glamour of Branson, but will include the lights and decorations of the Christmas season, but will include a guided tour of the sights in Branson as well as sites in the Ozarks and the School of the Ozarks and other spots of interest.

The group will leave the Wilson Park Inn in early morning and will have a quick breakfast stop on the way down, lunch at the Dinner Bell Restaurant in Branson and then travel the road to the theater for the first show of the weekend.

Immediately after the show it's off to the Dixie Stampede, the dinner theater for the show, they will be shopping at the newest mall in Branson that includes Vanity Fair, Lee, Spliegel, Revlon, Coming/Revere, West End/Southern and many other stores. This mall is also the new home of the Mountain Man Fruit and Nut Store that has been an annual Christmas stop.

Lodging will be at the Seven Gables Motel where a continental breakfast will be provided each morning.

The show on Saturday will be Hobby Vinton and the Glenn Miller Orchestra in the afternoon and Dino's Piano Extravaganza in the evening.

On Sunday the group will head home by way of Springfield, Mo. with stops at the Bass Pro Shop and Piccadilly's Cafeteria. Other stops will be made at the St. Louis Stover Candy Outlet and the St. James Winery.

The trip will go on sale Wednesday Oct. 30 at the Park Inn Inn at 8 a.m. One person may reserve only one room. Proof of residence must be presented for each person except in the case of a member of the party. Non-residents may be placed on the waiting list by phone after 12 p.m. the day the trip goes on sale.

The cost of the trip is $223 for a single room, $238 per person for two to a room, $218 each for three to a room and $210 per person for four to a room. The trip includes motorcoach, motel, four major shows, a guided tour of the area, shopping time and five meals.

If violations are mitigated, the violation is noted on the property title.

Remember the ultimate trade-off is total compliance versus partial compliance but high flood insurance premium rates. And there is a cost to the owner of the property and the community ultimately for leaving (violations) there. If you build correctly, you can get $100,000 worth of flood insurance for $70 per year," he said. "But if you build incorrectly, $100,000 could cost several thousands of dollars a year."

He said owners in such cases property owners should be compliant to the village.

"Apparently they're not making that much noise (in Pontoon Beach)," he said. "That means the banks are not requiring that the insurance agents are incorrectly rating the policies, or homeowners are getting loans from non-federally regulated institutions."

The village had attempted to deal with the problems two ways—granting variances for the mobile homes, business and some of the sales tax and seeking a letter of map revision for the homes in Pontoon Beach.

A LOMR is a redrawing of the flood plain.

FEMA informed the village that the variances were "unacceptable" and granted a LOMR to only four of 10 homes requested.

"Our biggest concern when we come to a community when hasn't been doing a very good job of floodplain management, is that you're going to leave you alone, you're going to be buried," he said.

"Then we've got a legacy of what's gone before," he added. "We need to go back and fix it as much as practical. Getting a variance doesn't do it."

The business can be either corrected or mitigated.

Because it is only inches short of the requirement, a new concrete slab would raise it above the minimum.

Mitigation could include an earth berm or concrete wall and moving utilities above the flood plain.

Six of the seven mobile homes—located in Quality Beach Mobile Home Park are within six inches of meeting the 10-year flood plain requirement. Schein said that since insurance companies usually adjust to the nearest foot, "In other words, which would probably be acceptable."

However, the cost of flood insurance for those homes would probably stay high.

He said mobile homes within one foot of the flood plain "probably would not be a problem," but placing them two feet above flood plain would decrease flood insurance.

The seven homes are more difficult, and Hales said would probably have to be mitigated rather than corrected.

The six Timberlake homes were built with basements. For the homes to be in compliance, the basements, which are fully finished, would have to be filled in with pea gravel.

Building mitigation would include berms or walls, and placing utilities such as electrical outlets above the 417-foot mark.

Schein said in many cases the cost of mitigation though one of the more expensive, was to lower the flood plain level through flood control projects.

Unfortunately here in the bottoms you have flood waters coming at you from all directions," he said.

This is a tricky situation and is going to be expensive to study before you turn over a shovelful of dirt," he said.

•FEMA

you're going to do," he said. "Across the board variances are not acceptable."

Schein said expulsion from the program could have disastrous results for the village.

First of all, nobody in town can buy flood insurance," he said.

Schein said 100 properties had approximately $7.5 million in flood insurance coverage. Of those, most were outside the 100-year flood plain.

"Anybody can buy flood insurance, and anybody can flood," he said.

Expulsion from the program would also mean those with policies could not renew them.

It would also prohibit any federal assistance for areas in the 100-year flood plain.

"There will be no VA, FHA, SBA, Farmer's Home, EPA, HUD, DOT... across the board," Schein said. "Any monies to build, acquire, repair or improve structures in flood plain are prohibited by law since 1974."

It would also make community development grants, unavailable.

"Temporary housing for the people would still be available under the current regulation, but they're looking hard at that to see if they can change it."

He said those results could be a "big blow" to the village.

"It's designed that way, to discourage those types of actions in the flood plain that are incompatible to the risks," he said.

Hemmer tall in Millikin Hall of Fame

Can you name a sports Hall of Famer who did not play his sport as a senior in high school?

I can. He's Bob Hemmer of Fairview Heights, and on Oct. 18 the former Althoff High running back/linebacker was inducted into the Millikin University Hall of Fame.

"We were running through ropes on the day of our first official scrimmage, and I tore a cartilage in my left knee," Hemmer said of the 1975 senior season he never had at Althoff.

A two-year starter previously, Hemmer then was left to concentrate on rehab and wrestling, and although he was the first Crusader to reach the state mat finals in '75, football became a memory.

All that changed, though, when then-Millikin coach Carl Poelker wrote to him. Poelker, asked coach Glenn Schott for films — even if from the previous season. The rest was not left to history.

"It's safe to say I was a little guy in college," said the 5-foot-8 Hemmer.

And at 185 pounds, the weight he got away from high school throughout college, Hemmer would seem even too small at the NCAA Division III school like Millikin.

"He made an impression as soon as he started practice in August," said Poelker, a Millikin alumnus and a member of Football committee, who believes the honor is overdue for Hemmer.

"Bob beat out a junior from Chicago Taft his freshman year and started every game for four years," Poelker said.

"We got a great coach," said Bob Hemmer, whose brother Dave and cousin Steve also were outstanding athletes at Althoff.

"We ran a 3-3 defense at Millikin, and while the front line took the blocks, I could play deep off the ball and read where the ball was going."

The results in four seasons, Hemmer set records for most tackles in a game (22 in '79), tackles in a season (126 in '79), and sacks in a game (4.5 in '79). Named All-GIAC College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin twice as well as being chosen captain two years, Hemmer also received MVP, defensive lineman honors as well as all-state academic acclaim.

From 1977-79, with Hemmer leading the defense, Millikin either won or shared three conference titles and was the only team to defeat powerful Augustana.

"He was an excellent football player with exceptional balance," Poelker said of Hemmer, who resides with his wife Liz and daughters Natalie, 11, and Sarah, 8, in Fairview Heights.

A marketing director at Sverdrup Environmental Inc. in suburban St. Louis, Hemmer considered himself "so fortunate to be able to do what I did at Millikin."

Fond of football from the time he played for the Belleville Little Knights, Hemmer said he never considered his size a disadvantage.

OVERTIME: The stupidity of the current state football playoffs system shone again recently in the form of the Metro East Lutheran game at Elverado.

In each of the last eight years, Elverado has never won more than one game a season, but the Falcons still are playoff conscious in that they have a nine-game schedule — a necessity if they are ever to remain in play.

Kumar nets state berth

By Rob Raphael
Staff writer

Geeta Kumar became the first Granite City High School girls tennis player to advance to the state tournament in six years, as she made it out of the Belleville West sectionals Friday by winning her two matches.

Keri Weckmann (1990) was the last Lady Warrior to play in the state tournament.

Kumar, seeded third in the sectional, didn't even lose a game in streaking by Vanessa Church of Jerseyville (6-0, 6-0) in the first round, and Leslie Rogers of Civic Memorial (6-0, 6-0) in the second round.

Kumar will travel to Chicago (Mt. Prospect) for the state tournament, where she will play in first-round match at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Both Kumar and coach Linda Ames agreed the hard work and teamwork in the sectional was the key to her success. With Althoff in the sectional, Kumar would have likely been paired in doubles competition.

"It feels great," said Kumar. "I figured I had a chance to go (to state), but I'm very happy. I was fortunate to get the seed, and (See KUMAR, Page 4B)

Lindenwood kickers upend SIUE

Big wins. The Lindenwood women's soccer team will need several more wins to make a return appearance in the NAIA title game this season.

The Lady Lions scored a big win Wednesday night, handing Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville its first loss of the season 3-1 at Harlen C. Hunter Stadium.

The Cougars, who dropped to 1-2-2 on the season, are ranked No. 5 in the nation in the latest NCAA Division II poll. Lindenwood — ranked No. 9 in NAIA — improved to 11-2-4. "We have a lot of tough games coming up, so we're ready to play them," Lindenwood All-America midfielder Lynn Naeger said. "It's good to be in the tournament again."

First-year Lindenwood coach Kevin Kilcullen knew what would be important against a quality opponent like SIUE. "A lot of them before the game that we needed to have a perfect game on corner kicks, throw-ins and free kicks," Kilcullen said.

Brill finds stroke in sectional tourney

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Expectations surrounding Collingsville High junior golfer Tyson Brill have been rather lofty since the beginning of the season.

Ever since Brill finished eighth at the Illinois Class AA state tournament as a sophomore a year ago, the pressure on the 17-year-old standout has been intense.

But Brill proved his stock at the Decatur Sectional on Thursday afternoon. Not only did Brill qualify for his second straight trip to the state tournament this weekend in Bloomington, he captured the sectional individual medalist's honor with an even-par round of 72 and helped the Kahoks finish third in the team standings for a state berth.

For his efforts and accomplishments this golf season,

Handy tips on Fall Cleanup
from the experts at

FRANK'S®
NURSERY & CRAFTS

Where Beautiful Things Begin

Nature's beautiful shade-providing works of art that cool everything down in summer and give us a glorious color show in fall eventually end up where we least want or need them. All over our lawns, driveways and sidewalks. Crunchy and dry or wet and moldy, the leaf litter of fall is something that just doesn't go away. And not many of us like cleaning 'em up.

But since there's no way around it, here are some tips on leaf disposal.

If you have a mulching mower, you can just run over them. It may take more than one pass, but you'll shred them up into fine particles that make an excellent winter mulch.

Another method is composting. Shred the leaves and add them to your compost pile. If you don't have a pile, there's no time like the present to start one. The benefits of composting are numerous.

If you plan on raking the leaves up into big piles, make sure you follow your community's guidelines on leaf disposal.

The worst thing you can do with the leaves is nothing. If they're left lying on the grass for any length of time, they can rob the turf of valuable sunlight. Grass normally grows quickly during the fall, storing energy for winter survival and spring greening. If the grass is shaded it can't store as much energy, and you'll be faced with a different set of problems. You may have to overseed some areas, fight invading weeds or apply an extra dose of lawn food. It's much simpler to get rid of the leaves now.

A few precautions are in order when it comes to leaf piles. We've mentioned it before, but it bears an encore, since leaves combined with vehicles can present some very hazardous situations.

Never, under any circumstances, drive a vehicle over a pile of leaves. Small children are attracted to leaf piles, and could be playing in them, completely out of your view.

Secondly, avoid parking a vehicle on top of a pile of leaves, even a shallow one. The exhaust system under the vehicle, especially the catalytic converter, gets very hot, and takes a long time to cool off. It can easily ignite a pile of dry leaves.

Other Chores

You should pull out annual and vegetable plants, including the roots, after frost has killed them. Cut back the dead stems of perennials. If you leave insect infested or diseased plant material lying around, you'll have to battle the same lawn problems as mentioned earlier. Easier to take care of it now.

Tilling the garden is a good idea. It will expose insect eggs and larvae to the cold temperatures, plus provide food for birds.

Clean and put away any tools, netting, plant stakes, tomato cages and any other equipment that you won't be needing for a while.

Garden hoses should be completely drained and brought indoors. Keep it fairly handy, though; a balmy day may trigger the urge to give the car a good wash job.

If you have an in-ground sprinkler system, make sure it is winterized according to the manufacturer's directions.

ing to do better than eighth."

Winning a regional or sectional title has been a goal of Brill's dating back to last year.

"I felt coming into the sectional I was due," Brill said.

"I really felt I was going to win it. I played a practice round and the course was set up perfect for my game."

"I was lots of pressure on me. I think I might have been about good about it. I was thinking about medalist when I tied it up."

"I liked winning the sectional title because I won over some great players. We're all pretty good friends. It wasn't like there was bad blood between any of us. They all advanced too. They just wanted to shoot their best and win."

Last year, Brill won the state tournament with senior teammate Nate Silver and both ended up shooting a 72.

Hilary, a sophomore, will make Brill feel more comfortable at the two-day event.

In fact, after the first day of last year's event, Brill had a three-way tie for second place and just one shot off the leader. However, Brill admits he got caught up in all the excitement and had trouble shooting once he went back to his hotel.

"After I shot the 75, I kept on going down to the front desk and checking in and out if the hotel was painted for the second day. I remember I was playing with the second to last group with the leader. I was pretty anxious, was I? I didn't get a chance to think about my round and how nice it would be to win it as a sophomore."

"I stayed up pretty late just thinking about it. I was prepared mentally, but when the wind came up, I wasn't prepared for that. I was just stunned."

Going into the Friday and Saturday tournament at Bloomington this weekend, Brill felt he was prepared for anything.

"I'm playing right now, he said. "I'm playing the best ball of my year, definitely."

Bearcats top Westminster for 1st win

By Scott Marion
Staff writer

The "Return Bowl" provided many happy returns for the McKendree College football team.

The Bearcats, fielding a team for the first time since 1950, earned their first victory of the season Oct. 12 at Leeman Park in Granite City. The win over Westminster, which last played football in 1932, "was a great feeling," said McKendree coach Carl Poelker, who team improved to 1-4. "These kids have worked so hard and we had a couple close games, but we ended up shooting ourselves in the foot."

"We got over the hump and got some things done, which is the next step for the team. It's going to help their confidence."

Playing before a home crowd of more than 2,500, the Bearcats claimed the Return Bowl Victory Bowl, a traveling trophy which will be presented to the McKendree-Westminster winner each year.

The Bearcats took a 6-0 lead on their second possession of the game as Donald Brooks came in from 40 yards with a 4-yard touchdown run. Westminster came back to tie the game by halftime and controlled the ball for most of the third quarter. Leeman Park's Jason Karnes to Brett Gross with 34 seconds to play. A two-point conversion made the score 14-14 heading into the fourth quarter.

On McKendree's next possession, Karnes and Gross teamed up for a 63-yard TD pass. Jason Weil, who gave the Bearcats a 21-8 lead, Westminster got within seven points, but McKendree came right back, as Brooks capped a 68-yard drive with a 10-yard touchdown run.

"We were a lot looser in the second half," Poelker said. "We didn't do a whole lot of things different. In the first half, I thought we were trying too hard. Everything seemed real slow." Against Evansville (a 21-8 loss on Sept. 28), we played well offensively and played well defensively except for two or three plays."

"We were a lot looser in the second half," Poelker said. "We didn't do a whole lot of things different. In the first half, I thought we were trying too hard. Everything seemed real slow."

Poelker continues to see improvement from his squad in every area.

"It's a team effort," he said. "Our defensive front got some sacks and Mike Garavilla (a freshman from Althoff) had a good game (at middle linebacker). He was the national (NAIA) Division I player of the week."

"He started the year at defensive end and had to get some confidence in himself. He's a typical Althoff kid he loves to play the game."

On Saturday, McKendree was scheduled to play host to Blackburn, but the Bearcats' homecoming game.

"We just want to have fun and keep playing hard," Poelker said. "That's our goal as long as I'm here."

With Newellville, the setback not only threw the River to River race up for grabs but slowed the Newjackets' quest for the first playoff appearance in school history. Even after a 6-0 start, Chester needed a win over Du Quoin or DuBois to clinch a playoff berth.

The last time a Chester team won more than six games was in 1978 (8-14).

"Althoff (being absent) was big," Ames said. "But Geeta played very well, and we're happy for her."

AREA NEWS

The front page of Wednesday's Wall Street Journal gave many a River Bend reader a jolt of recognition. The newspaper's lead story, which ran nationwide, was about Alton and Jerry Dingus, 39, who works in the grain elevators at the Conagra mill. Dingus was interviewed by Wall Street Journal/NBC News poll reporter Christina Duff about why he feels better about the economy than he did four years ago. Dingus of Carlinville was chosen to be interviewed in a Wall Street Journal/NBC News poll because he represented a slim majority of respondents who feel better about the economy than they did four years ago. Dingus said he was chosen because he is a "good example of someone who was thoughtful and articulate. He reads a lot and thinks a lot about things," Duff said. "I got in touch with him and came to Alton."

Why did they want someone from the Midwest? "The Midwest is more real," said Duff, who covers economic issues. "Middle America is really good for getting a read on what's going on in the rest of the country."

Alton is also an area with both mixed industry and farming, Duff said.

The coast-to-coast exposure can't hurt the area, officials said.

"To have Alton's name in the national news with a positive spin to it is in everybody's best interest," said Don Miller, president of the River Bend Growth Association.

Local readers will find some familiar names in the story.

Horoscope

SUNDAY, Oct. 20. A brilliant idea could very well break you out of a rut under Aquarius' spell. Eccentric behaviors and interesting new attacks on old problems are what keep the signs moving. Be tolerant of others' ideas and opinions. People are learning the same lessons in different ways, and the less judgmental you are now, the faster you can reach your goals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Notice what others do, not what they say. A new Scorpio or Libra love interest is coming into your life. Reunions go extremely well. A new money-making idea needs more fleshing out. Reserve quiet time just for you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You reach a compromise that should unburden you from debts or obligations. Joining community groups brings new romance. A small group of people you can trust out a creative idea.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). A deteriorating friendship deserves more care at recalculating. A home-improvement project will turn out to be an excellent investment. Concern for a brother or sister is right on the money.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You need to pull back a little with your current love. Space will ease the tension. Purchase an expensive decorative or fashion item. You deserve it. Let a child or pet break the rules a little bit.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Bring out old feelings and fall in love with you. See a good example for a child. Teens deserve reasons for your actions. Stabilize a romance by making a stronger commitment. Visit a friend and receive a surprise.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Give your love some time to make his/her own decisions. Fears in business or love are imaginary. Telephone calls bring excellent results, along with unusual news about an old friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22). Appear calm and others will sense your personal power. Aggressive action must be done subtly or you lose face.

Pay a social visit on a former employee. Relax and let others do the cleaning up. SCORE (Oct. 23-Nov. 21). Focus security to gain true independence. A financial windfall has strings attached. Luck comes through creative matters. Teams need your advice but have trouble asking for it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Powerful friends lead you into dynamic business ventures. A calm, creative helps with domestic problems. Allow plenty of time for preparation, as others will delay you. Headway is made with persistence.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). A love relationship improves when you stop listening to know-it-all neighbors. Do not equate niceness with weakness.

Distant cousins or in-laws will rescue you from a financial jam if you ask.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Your point of view changes with further research and investigation. Rewards from civic duties impress you more than new love. Review your budget and you may find that you have been overspending a bit.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Be selective, as there is not time to devote yourself to all who want to see you.

They treated me like I was buying a Saturn or something.

People sure seem to like the way we sell cars. So when somebody suggested that maybe our retailers could sell used cars in the same no-pressure, low-key way they sell new ones — well, that seemed doable. So did the idea of giving every qualified used car an extensive 150-point inspection, along with a limited warranty and a 3-day moneyback guarantee. Then selling them just like they were Satellites — mainly because it makes for a pleasant experience. That, and nobody here really knows how to do it any other way. Hope to see you soon.

A DIFFERENT KIND of COMPANY. A DIFFERENT KIND of CAR.
